“This has become a safe space for me because it shows that growth is possible. I love the idea of change. I took a chance on Lawrence Hall, and I had to really trust the process. I had no idea what I was stepping into and to know that I’m a part of something like this, and can vouch, it’s just amazing.”

FALL FÊTE 2025 RECAP

Last year's Fall Fête marked the celebration of a historic anniversary: 160 years of Lawrence Hall providing hope, healing, and resilience to Chicago's youth. As a celebration of this milestone anniversary, guests at last year's fête took an entertaining look into Lawrence Hall's past while discovering the possibilities for our future through fun, interactive videos.

The 2025 Champion for Children Award was given to Jayne Coyne, a lifelong advocate for young people whose dedication to Lawrence Hall's youth spans nearly 40 years. Beginning in 1987 with Mary Bartelme Homes and Services and continuing through decades of leadership with Lawrence Hall, she's played a pivotal role in strengthening programs, expanding fundraising, and elevating public awareness. Fittingly, years after helping inspire the original Champion for Children Award, Jayne was honored at our 160th anniversary celebration for her tireless dedication to advancing hope and healing for Chicago's youth.
